

JCR Style Sheet

This style sheet is for accepted manuscripts. Before you submit your final materials, please read the instructions for authors of accepted manuscripts and review the checklist at the end of this style sheet to make sure your manuscript is ready for publication.

If you are preparing a new or revised manuscript for review (including conditional acceptances), please follow the submission guidelines and use our submission system.

GENERAL INFORMATION

By following the style sheet carefully, authors can avoid publication delays and reduce the possibility of errors caused by the conversion of improperly formatted manuscripts or portions of such manuscripts that have to be rekeyed. Authors are responsible for the correct formatting of their manuscripts.

In general, and for all matters not covered by this style sheet, JCR follows the Chicago Manual of Style, 16th edition.

All manuscripts must be double-spaced (this requirement also pertains to references and interviews) in 12-point Times New Roman font with pages numbered consecutively in the upper right corner throughout (the title page is page 1). Allow for one-inch margins on all four sides. Use the one font style throughout the file. Text must be aligned to the left margin.

MANUSCRIPT ORDER AND CONTENT

- Title Page (page 1)
- Author Note (page 2)
- Abstract and Keywords (page 3) (no titles)
- Text (begins on page 4) (no titles)
- Data Collection Information
- Appendixes (if applicable)
- References (double spaced with hanging indent)
- Tables (include labels, titles, and notes)
- Figures (include labels, titles, and notes)
- Headings List

SPECIFIC DETAILS OF MANUSCRIPT FORMATTING AND ORGANIZATION

Title Page (page 1)

The title of the manuscript is centered on the first page and appears in upper and lower case. Manuscript titles follow Chicago Manual of Style rules on headline style capitalization. These include capitalizing the first and last words in titles; capitalizing all other major words; lowercasing articles the, a, and an; lowercasing prepositions regardless of length except when they are used as adverbs or adjectives; and lowercasing conjunctions.

Author names are listed below the title and appear in all caps. Page number appears as page 1 in the upper right corner.

Though not foolproof, TitleCap is a useful tool that automatically capitalizes titles per our desired style (ensure the third radio box, labeled “do not capitalize words based on length [Chicago Manual of Style],” is ticked).

Author Note Page (page 2, no title)

The author note denotes the corresponding author and the following information for each author:

- Full name
- Email address
- Current position
- Current affiliation (department and university/institution)

Your author note should also include acknowledgments of financial, technical, or other assistance. Use third person throughout (e.g., “The authors thank...”).

If you are submitting a web appendix, please state this briefly in your author note, e.g., “Supplementary materials are included in the web appendix accompanying the online version of this article.”

This page is numbered as page 2 in the upper right corner. Nothing else appears on this page (no titles, headers, or footers).

Abstract and Keywords Page (page 3, no title)

Provide a brief abstract of no more than 200 words that substantively summarizes the article. In a separate paragraph after the abstract, a list of three to six keywords. Type Keywords: (italicized) and then list the keywords (roman, lowercase, and separated by commas). This page is numbered page 3 in the upper right corner. Nothing else appears on this page (no titles, headers, or footers).

Text (begins on page 4, no title)

Capitalization within Text

- Use lowercase for referencing: table 1, equation 1, appendix A, hypothesis A, study 1, experiment 1.

Citations

- Citations enclose within parentheses the given author name followed by publication date: (Kinsey 1960).
- Multiple citations are listed alphabetically and separated by semicolons: (Gatignon and Robertson 1985; Green and Gold 1981).
- Multiple citations by the same author(s) are separated by a comma: (Moschis and Moore 1978, 1979).
- Entries on the bibliography page listed in alphabetical order. Articles by a single author precede coauthored works by that author. Coauthored works are listed alphabetically, name by name: (Green 1978; Green and Gold 1981; Green and White 1980).
- The citation should stand just within a punctuation mark. When it is necessary to reference a particular page, section, or equation, the page number should be placed within the parentheses: (Andreasen 1984, 785). NB: no “p.” or “pp.” for page or pages.
- If an author has published two or more works in the same year, list them alphabetically by title in the references, differentiated by letters after the date in both the reference list and the text: (1988a, 1988b).
- Two authors: always cite both authors (e.g., Green and Smith 1978).
- Three authors: after first mention (e.g., Black, Jones, and Gould 1990), use first author’s name and et al. (e.g., Black et al. 1990).
- Four or more authors: always use first author’s name and et al.
- No need to use cf., i.e., e.g., refer to, compare, see, or other abbreviations before proper names in citations. It’s obvious that you want the reader to refer to the citation.

Footnotes

- You may use footnotes, which appear at the bottom of the given page (not to be confused with endnotes, which appear at the end of the manuscript and are not allowed at JCR).
- Create notes that are linked to the text using the footnote function on your word processor so that the footnotes are automatically and accurately renumbered when you make changes.
- Use footnotes sparingly. If you have extensive footnote-like material, it should be included in a web appendix instead.

General Formatting

- Use 12-point Times Roman font throughout text. All text must be double spaced; do not set the spacing at “exactly 12” or anything else (use double spacing only). Do not use condensed characters.
- Format the manuscript with one-inch margins on all sides.

Headers and Footers

- Except for page numbers, omit all headers and footers from all pages. Page numbers should appear in the top right corner of each page.

Headings

- You may use up to three levels of headings.

- Make sure that you have more than one secondary heading per section (or no secondary headings). You may have a primary heading and two secondary headings, but never a single secondary heading in a section. There are no restrictions on tertiary headings.
- Major headings: in all-capital letters, centered, and in bold typeface; add an extra return (an additional double space) before and after.
- Subheadings: capital and lowercase letters, flushed left; add an extra return before and after.
- Tertiary headings: capital and lowercase letters, paragraph indented, italicized, and punctuated with a period; add an extra return before heading. Text follows on same line.

Hypotheses

- Bold, indented, syllabus style (double spaced in your manuscript):
 - H1: Classifier-related clustering in recall should be more likely to occur for speakers of classifier languages than for speakers of nonclassifier languages.
- Use lowercase and spell out in text (hypothesis 2).

Numbers

- Numbers under 10 are spelled out except in special circumstances (six to 10 hours, but 5%).
- Numbers followed by the percent sign (%) are always numerals (6%, 25%) unless the number starts a sentence (e.g., “Twenty-three percent of those surveyed...”).
- Use numerals with percent signs (5%), units of measurement (4 inches long), money ($4), dimensions (2 x 2 contingency table), and in technical and mathematical contexts.
- Spell out numbers that begin sentences (“Twenty-three children began the program...”).

Statistics

- Double-check all technical and quantitative features, including those in tables, figures, equations, and captions.
- Standard deviation: abbreviate as “SD” (roman)
- Not significant: abbreviate as “NS” (roman).
- Italicize all letters as indicated here (e.g., p , F , M , df , r , t). Do not italicize Greek letters. Use x , not an asterisk, for interactions.
- No zero before decimal point in probabilities (e.g., $p = .035$).
- Use p for probabilities and M for means (for singular and plural).
- Use italicized M when reporting means in the text (e.g., $M_{\text{males}} = 3.5$). Do not use space bar.
- Leave one space on either side of operational signs and signs of relation.
- Reporting p-values:
 - Be as specific as possible; e.g., opt for $p = .035$ instead of $p < .05$
 - Significant: $p < .05$ (e.g., $p = 0.043$)
 - Marginally significant: p is between .05 and .10 (e.g., $p = .065$)
 - Not significant: $p > .10$ (e.g., $p = 0.67$)
 - Please do not use terms such as “approaching significance” or “directionally significant.”
- Format example for statistical test results: $(F(1, 139) = 34.65, p < .05)$.
- Format when statistical test results follow a mean: $(M = 5.12; F(1, 139) = 34.65, p < .05)$.
- Format when results follow differences in means: $(4.67 \text{ vs. } 5.68; F(1, 81) = 2.94, p < .05)$.
- $\chi^2(12)$ (chi-square number in regular font, not subscript). Spell out chi-square in text, and use χ^2 with statistics.

- $F(7, 12)$ not $F_{(7, 12)}$. Be sure there is one space after the comma.
- Equations: centered and not numbered, if only one equation. If more than one equation, center equation and put bold number flush right in parentheses. Example:

$$\hat{y} = B_0 + B_2 \times f. \quad (2)$$

Units of Measurement

- Spell out units of measurement whenever preceded by numerals (4 minute task; NB: no hyphen between numeral and unit).
- However, units of measurement may be abbreviated in tables.

Other General Formatting Requirements

- Abbreviations: Use abbreviations such as “i.e.” and “e.g.” (followed by comma) within parentheses only. Spell out “that is” and “for example” in the text.
- Ampersands: Do not use this symbol (“&”).
- Article: Change all mention of “paper” or “manuscript” to “article” (accepted manuscripts only).
- Blank pages: Avoid. Do not leave any blank pages within text or between sections.
- Boldface: Use for primary headings only.
- Commas: Use the serial comma; that is, include a comma before the conjunction: “Green, Smith, and Jones.”
- Dashes: should connect the text on both sides—thank you! (That was an example of the dash format.)
- Hyphens: Avoid using hyphens after “-ly” modifiers—for example, there is no hyphen in “poorly arranged” and “randomly selected.”
- Italics: Use for in-text emphasis sparingly, if at all.
- Participants: Replace the term “subjects” with “participants” or “respondents” throughout the manuscript, except where the term is technical (e.g., “between subjects”).
- Percent: Use “%” following numerals. Do not spell out “percent” (unless it stands alone without a numeral or follows a number beginning a sentence, as in “Twenty-three percent of respondents...”).
- Quotation marks: Do not use in text unless you are directly quoting a work or defining something. Do not use for emphasis. Always place commas and periods inside quotation marks, not outside.
- Respondents: Replace the term “subjects” with “participants” or “respondents” throughout the manuscript, except where the term is technical (e.g., “between subjects”).
- Spaces: Use only one space-bar space (not two) at the end of sentences and after colons.
- Special formatting, section breaks: Do not use. Use hard page returns to start a new section.
- Subjects: Replace the term “subjects” with “participants” or “respondents” throughout the manuscript, except where the term is technical (e.g., “between subjects”).
- Underlining: Do not underline text in any instance.
- Versus: Spell out in text. Abbreviate if in parentheses (“vs.” in parentheses).

Data Collection Information

A data collection paragraph must be included in all manuscripts accepted for publication. This paragraph should appear just before the appendixes (or before the reference section if there are no appendixes) in the final version of the manuscript. Please write in the third person (e.g., “The authors jointly analyzed the data.”) and provide the following information for each study:

- Where the data were collected (including university name, if applicable)
- When the data were collected
- Who collected the data
- Who analyzed the data

If a research assistant or lab manager collected data under the supervision of one of the authors, this should be acknowledged here (however, the names of the research assistants and lab managers are not required).

Sample Data Collection Paragraphs:

DATA COLLECTION INFORMATION

The first author supervised the collection of data for the first study by research assistants at the University of Chicago Decision Research Lab in the autumn of 2011. The first and second authors jointly analyzed these data. The first and second authors jointly managed the collection of data for study 2 using the Qualtrics panel described in the methods section in the spring of 2012. These data were analyzed jointly by all three authors with support of a statistical staff member at the University of Chicago.

DATA COLLECTION INFORMATION

The first author conducted all of the in-person fieldwork herself from Autumn of 2007 until Spring of 2009. The second author acted as confidante throughout the process, and visited the field site twice. Both authors conducted the online fieldwork independently and equally as active social media participants. Data were discussed and analyzed on multiple occasions by both authors using the first author's field notes, photographs, video, and artifacts, and both authors' online notes, screen captures, and text files. The final ethnography was jointly authored.

Appendixes

If appendixes are provided (not necessary), they appear on a new page after the text and before the References section. Multiple appendixes are labeled with letters (Appendix A, Appendix B). A single appendix is labeled without the letters (Appendix).

References

References must be double spaced with a hanging indent and begin on a new page following the text (or appendixes, if any). Authors should cite references judiciously, with the goal of including only those prior works of direct relevance and importance to the research reported. The reference list is not intended to serve as a bibliography; all unnecessary, redundant, or tangential references should be eliminated.

Each reference should be cited in the text at an appropriate place.

Do not include references that have no corresponding citations in the text, and be sure that you have provided the complete reference for every citation. There must be a reference for every citation, and a citation for every reference.

List references alphabetically by last name of the first author. Subsequent authors in the entry are listed by first and last name. Articles by a single author precede coauthored works by that author. If a single author has more than one article, substitute a one-inch line for the name in the second and subsequent references. If an identical group of authors has more than one article, substitute a one-inch line for the same (identical) group of authors in the second and subsequent references. Never use a line followed by names. If the names change, list them all. Arrange more than one work by an author or team of authors from the oldest to the most recent work, and alphabetically by title within the same year:

- Moschis, George P. (1976), "Acquisition of the Consumer Role by Adolescents," unpublished dissertation, the Graduate College, University of Wisconsin, Madison, WI 53706.
- _____ (1980), "Communication Information Use: Individual versus Social Predictors," Communication Research, 7 (April), 139-60.
- Moschis, George P. and Gilbert A. Churchill Jr. (1978), "Consumer Socialization: A Theoretical and Empirical Analysis," Journal of Marketing Research, 15 (November), 599-609.
- Moschis, George P. and Roy L. Moore (1979a), "Decision Making among the Young: A Socialization Perspective," Journal of Consumer Research, 6 (September), 101-12.
- _____ (1979b), "Family Communication and Consumer Socialization," in Advances in Consumer Research, Vol. 6, ed. William L. Wilkie, Ann Arbor, MI: Association for Consumer Research, 359-63.
- Moschis, George P., Roy L. Moore, and Ruth B. Smith (1984), "The Impact of Family Communication on Adolescent Consumer Socialization," in Advances in Consumer Research, Vol. 11, ed. Thomas C. Kinnear, Provo, UT: Association for Consumer Research, 314-19.

General Reference Guidelines

- For in-text citation formatting, please see the citation instructions on pages 2-3.
- Provide volume plus issue month, season, or number, plus pages for each journal article reference.
- Spell author and editor names as they appear in the source works to reflect their publication-name preferences.
- Page numbers (e.g., 148-49, but 188-204). Please delete the first digit of the second number if the first digit of the second number is the same as the first digit of the first number.
- Do not use eds. (always use ed.) This stands for "edited by." The exception is when there are multiple editors (instead of authors) before the year of publication.
- Do not use "in press." Use "forthcoming" in place of the date when the date is not known and in place of page numbers when the date is known.
- Question marks in titles are never followed by a comma or a period. Example: "Why Me? Because I Said So."
- Zip code abbreviations for states and Canadian provinces (AB, BC, MB, NB, NF, NS, ON, PQ, SK).
- Shortened form for publishers (e.g., Sage, Routledge).
- Works by a single author or same team of authors arranged chronologically (oldest to most recent).

- Works by different teams of authors are arranged alphabetically by second and third authors.
- Works published in the same year by an author or team of authors arranged alphabetically by title.
- DO NOT UNDERLINE ANYTHING. Article titles should be in quotation marks, while journal and book titles should be in italics.

Formatting Guidelines for Specific References

- Periodicals: List author names, including first names, publication date, article title in quotation marks, unabbreviated name of the periodical in italics, volume number, issue designation (month, season, or number), and full page numbers:

McCracken, Grant (1986), "Culture and Consumption: A Theoretical Account of the Structure and Movement of the Cultural Meaning of Consumer Goods," Journal of Consumer Research, 13 (June), 71–84.

- Books: List author names, including first names, publication date, book title in italics, place of publication, and name of publisher:

Lincoln, Yvonna S. and Egon G. Guba (1985), Naturalistic Inquiry, Beverly Hills, CA: Sage.

- Excerpts from books: List author names, including first names, publication date, article/chapter title in quotation marks, book title in italics, editors, place of publication, name of publisher, and excerpt page numbers:

Taylor, Shelley E. and Jennifer Crocker (1981), "Schematic Bases of Social Information Processing," in Social Cognition: The Ontario Symposium, Vol. 1, ed. E. Tory Higgins, Hillsdale, NJ: Erlbaum, 89-134.

- Unpublished papers: References to working papers, presented papers, unpublished dissertations, and such must include author names, including first names, year of submission or presentation, and title in quotes. The words "report," "working paper," "review paper," etc., are not capitalized unless the work is part of a numbered series. Include information about the sponsoring university or organization, such as name of department, college, city, state, and zip code.

Wallendorf, Melanie (1987), "On Intimacy," paper presented at the American Marketing Association Winter Educators' Conference, San Antonio, TX.

Anderson, Paul F. and John G. Thatcher (1986), "On Borrowing, Epistemology, and Category Mistakes in Business Research," Working Paper No. 1–786–035, Harvard Business School, Boston, MA 02163.

Simmons, Carolyn J. (1986), "Effect of Missing Information on Product Evaluation," unpublished dissertation, Marketing Department, College of Business Administration, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611.

- Proceedings, edited works: Proceedings citations are treated as excerpts from an edited book. References must list author names, including first names, publication date, article title in quotation marks, conference proceedings title in italics, volume number, first and last names of the editors, place of publication, name of publisher, and page numbers:

Olson, Jerry C. (1981), "Toward a Science of Consumer Behavior," in Advances in Consumer Research, Vol. 9, ed. Andrew A. Mitchell, Ann Arbor, MI: Association for Consumer Research, v-x.

Lastovicka, John L. and David M. Gardner (1979), "Components of Involvement," in Attitude Research Plays for High Stakes, ed. John C. Maloney and Bernard Silverman, Chicago: American Marketing Association, 53–73.

- Government publication

U.S. Bureau of the Census (1983), Statistical Abstract of the United States, Washington, DC: Government Printing Office.

- Different co-authors, forthcoming works

Wittink, Dick R. and Phillippe Cattin (1981), "Alternative Estimation Methods for Conjoint Analysis: A Monte Carlo Study," Journal of Marketing Research, 18 (February), 121–26.

Wittink, Dick R. and Lakshman Krishnamurthi (forthcoming), "Rank Order Preferences and the Part-Worth Model: Implications for Derived Attribute Importances and Choice Predictions," in Proceedings of the Third Annual Market Measurement and Analysis Conference, ed. John W. Keon, Providence, RI: Institute of Management Sciences.

- Websites and URLs

Doe, John R. and Mary Smith (2000), "Learning from the Web," <http://www.learning.org/now/>.

- Newspapers

Frank, Robert H. (1999), "The Gasoline Powered Raise," New York Times, June 30, A23.

- Reference with original publication dates

Veblen, Thorstein (1899/1979), The Theory of the Leisure Classes, New York: Penguin.

Tables

These instructions are for accepted manuscripts only. Manuscripts submitted for review should include tables and figures throughout the main text.

Tables follow the list of references. Each table should be numbered consecutively, submitted on a separate page (one per page) and collated at the end of the manuscript. Do not insert tables in the text. Indicate appropriate table placement in the text as follows:

Insert table 1 about here

Refer to tables in text by number (e.g., table 1). When referring to tables, do not use “above,” “below,” “preceding,” “the following,” and the like. If there is only one table, number it as table 1 in the text.

Tables should consist of at least four columns and four rows; otherwise they should be left as in-text tabulations. Tabulations should not have titles or notes but should be described in the text’s preceding paragraphs. Do not insert the entire table in a text box. Use Word’s table feature with columns and rows.

Specific Table Guidelines

- Labels: Tables must be numbered, and labels must be centered and typed in caps and lowercase.
- Titles: Tables must have a short descriptive title, centered and typed in caps and lowercase.
- Capitals: Only the initial letter of a given word, phrase, or columnar head in a table is capitalized.
- Heads: All columns must have headings; each column head must relate to its subhead.
- Columns: Decimals are aligned.
- Notes: Notes cued by lowercase superscript letters appear at the bottom of the table below the rule, paragraph indented. Descriptive information in addition to any notes should be placed above the notes, paragraph indented.
- Tables with text only should be treated in the same manner as tables with numbers (formatted as Word tables with rows, columns, and individual cells). Please do not use tabs and spaces.
- You can use sans serif fonts in tables (Helvetica, Arial).

Figures

These instructions are for accepted manuscripts only. Manuscripts submitted for review should include tables and figures throughout the main text.

Each figure should be numbered consecutively, centered at top of page, submitted on a separate page (one per page), and collated at the end of the manuscript—do not insert figures in the text. As described below, all titles, labels, and notes should be included with each figure in the main document. If there is only one figure, number it as figure 1. Refer to figures in text by number (e.g., figure 1). When referring to figures, do not use “above,” “below,” “preceding,” “the following,” and the like. Indicate appropriate figure placement in the text as follows:

Insert figure 1 about here

Specific Figure Guidelines

- Labels: Number each figure. Figure labels must be centered and typed in all capital letters.

- Titles: Each figure must have its own descriptive title, centered and typed in all caps.
- Lines: Clearly differentiate lines within figures. Variations include bold line, fine line, broken line, dotted line, etc. Lines within the figure should be identified by either a legend or a short description in a note.
- Axes: Label both vertical and horizontal axes. The ordinate label should be centered above the ordinate axis; the abscissa label should be placed flush right, beneath the abscissa. Place all calibration ticks inside the axis lines and their values outside the axis lines. If the junction of the axes is zero, there should be only one zero.
- Space: When boxes are used to delimit text or freespace drawings in figures, white space inside boxes should be kept to a minimum.
- Legends: Legends should be placed horizontally, if possible, either in an appropriate white space in the figure or centered beneath the figure.
- Notes and source lines: Notes and source lines appear at the bottom of the table or figure, indented and aligned to the left. Descriptive information in addition to any notes should be placed above the notes, paragraph indented.
- Photography requirements: Authors who plan to use photographs are required to include these photographs as part of the main manuscript file. Photographs should be treated as figures and uploaded as separate files as outlined above.
- Lettering on all figures must be professional in appearance and large enough to be easily read when reduced to actual size.

Please be sure to include the figures in the manuscript file as well as in separate, individual figure files (they must match)—one file per figure.

In the separate figure files, include figure legends and labels, but omit the headers and notes. This applies to all figures that appear in the manuscript file, including those in the appendix, if any. However, it does not apply to figures that appear in supplementary materials (i.e., web appendix).

Please see our publisher's instructions for formatting figures for accepted formats and resolution requirements.

Headings List

Provide a list of headings (ordered as you wish them to appear in your paper), left justified, with primary headings (numbered 1) formatted in bold type in all caps; secondary headings (numbered 2) formatted in upper and lower case; and tertiary headings (numbered 3) formatted in italics in upper and lower case. The order should be the same as the text order. The headings list is only required for manuscripts that have been accepted for publication. The headings list follows the figures in your manuscript (as part of the main manuscript, not a separate file).

Please be sure to use at least two secondary headings (or no secondary headings) in a section. You may have a primary heading and two secondary headings, but never a section with a single secondary heading. There are no restrictions on tertiary headings.

Sample Headings List:

- 1) PRIMARY HEADING
- 2) Secondary Heading
- 3) Tertiary Heading
- 2) Secondary Heading
- 3) Tertiary Heading
- 1) PRIMARY HEADING

Do NOT number 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, etc.; ONLY use 1, 2, and 3 (which designate the type of heading).

Web Appendix

If your final materials include a web appendix for special figures or data that will enhance your article but cannot be included in the print version because of space constraints, please provide a separate Word file attachment.

Note: These materials are supplements or enhancements only (not content essential to the understanding of the article).

In the author note of your main paper, include a sentence explaining that supplemental materials will be included as an attachment in the article's web appendix, e.g., "Supplementary materials are included in the web appendix accompanying the online version of this article."

The web appendix must include a title page with the title of the original paper, the list of authors, and a brief description of what is included in the supplement.

Web appendixes are not copyedited; they are posted online almost exactly as you provide them.

FINAL MATERIALS CHECKLIST FOR ACCEPTED MANUSCRIPTS

Before you log in to your author account to submit your final materials, please read the instructions for authors of accepted manuscripts and review the checklist below to make sure your manuscript is ready for publication.

- Prepare your manuscript file in Word and PDF formats (the PDF should be identical to the Word version).
- Verify that your manuscript conforms to our style sheet.
- Verify the author order and styling of print names.
- Check for common mistakes and omissions.
- Obtain any necessary permissions for images or other copyrighted content.
- If applicable, prepare separate figure files, including appendix figures (web appendix figures should not be included).
- If you would like to provide supplementary materials to accompany the online version of your article, prepare a separate web appendix file in Word format.
- For dissertation-based manuscripts, review our Ferber Award eligibility information.
- Prepare a plain-language 500- to 1,000-word summary and provide publicity contacts for our publicity program.
- Please submit a library recommendation form to your librarian and ask your co-authors to do the same.
- Please subscribe or renew your subscription and ask your co-authors to do the same. It's only $78/year for members of our sponsoring organizations such as ACR (select the Member Pay option) and $26/year for students.
- Contact the editorial office if you have any questions.